Latin America: key investment risks and how to manage them

Allen & Overy and Control Risks are delighted to invite you to a seminar examining the key risks, political and otherwise, facing potential investors in Latin America. The seminar will offer a high level overview of the key political, social and integrity risks associated with countries including Venezuela, Colombia, Mexico, Bolivia, Chile and Peru.

Allen & Overy and Control Risks' experts will then consider how best to identify, assess and manage these risks by reference to cases studies drawn from their extensive experience. This aspect of the seminar will look at strategies at the time the investment is made, during its lifetime and for resolving disputes should they arise.

The seminar will focus particularly on investments in the energy, extractive industries and infrastructure sectors.
